

AMERICANS AT MERCY OF VILLA REPORT ON BORDER.

WAIT WORD OF WILSON FOR ARMISTICE IN WAR.

Fighting Might Never be Resumed, Says Diplomat, if He Makes Move.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Nov. 26.—President Wilson could oblige a distinguished diplomat, representing a neutral European kingdom, remarked today, "if an armistice should be declared, I am convinced that the fighting never would be resumed."
The surface of the agitation for peace that is increasing in this country, and is being kindled in the press of the belligerent nations, it is the idea of an armistice that is receiving the thoughtful attention of these officials who are striving to pave the way for the termination of the war.
It is known that the proposition of an armistice has been suggested to President Wilson by several of his advisers, including an American ambassador to one of the major nations at war. The President disposes of it as probably the most realistic step in the direction of peace, but he has not yet taken any action on the matter.
Whether developments in the immediate future will convince Mr. Wilson of the propriety of suggesting an armistice, remains to be seen. On the one side is his own eagerness to end the war, and on the other side is the public expression of opinion that the United States should not be drawn into a large element of the European people that he attempts to mediate.
On the other side is the public expression of opinion that the United States should not be drawn into a large element of the European people that he attempts to mediate.

Falkenhayn Joins with Mackensen for Concerted Drive on Capital.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE, DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
LONDON, Nov. 26.—The Italians are continuing their forward drive west and northwest of Monastir and are now almost on the outskirts of Trnova. East and northeast of the new Serbian capital the allied advance has been an abrupt halt, according to the day's official reports. The Bulgarians claim to hold Dobromir, the town northeast of Monastir reported captured by the French several days ago.
The Bulgarian report lays claim to the capture of war material in considerable quantity from an Italian force near Trnova. On the opposite wing unfavorable weather conditions have been responsible for the cessation of the advance, and activity has been confined to brisk artillery engagements, which have not been followed by infantry advances.
The day was marked by sharp fighting between Serbian and Bulgarian forces on the outskirts of Grunishite, about twenty miles to the west of Monastir. Attacks were launched by both combatants, but neither was apparently successful in altering the positions of the other.
Mackensen and Falkenhayn have joined forces and are now driving

CHIHUAHUA PILLAGED.

Murder and Rapine by Villistas.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
EL PASO, Nov. 26.—Chihuahua city, with 40,000 of its residents is at the mercy of Francisco Villa tonight. Murder, pillage, rapine and the torch have been resorted to by the Villistas. Gen. Jacinto B. Trevino, with his Carranza army, evacuated the city during the night and the Villistas swarmed in at dawn, after three days and nights of almost persistent fighting. This is the information brought to the border late today by Mexican refugees from Sau, twenty miles north of Chihuahua. From Chihuahua itself no word has come today. The fate of the city, which has been swarming with all the forces his 5000 men could muster, remains today a mystery, except for indefinite rumors and reports of looting and hand, brought to the border by fleeing residents of towns near the State capital.
The direct word from Chihuahua City to reach the border came late last night. It told of Villa being in the city with practically his whole force, of the capture by Villistas, of the penitentiary, the State and Federal palaces, and the converting of each into fortresses from which Villa machine guns were sweeping the streets.
Whether Gen. Trevino and the Carranza garrison of 6000 or 8000 men remained after Villa had succeeded in battering his way into the city and still are contesting the progress of the bandits was not known by Carranza officials. All that they were willing to say tonight was that all wires to Chihuahua were cut and all railroad communication with the city had been destroyed.
A train sent from Juarez Saturday with reinforcements and ammunition for Gen. Trevino, either was captured by Villa or was wrecked by bandits en route. It did not reach Chihuahua in time to do Trevino any good. Juarez heard from underground sources that the men on the train went over to Villa and that the ammunition enabled Villa to complete the conquest of the city. No train has come from Chihuahua since Thursday. The last to go through to the border, brought frightened refugees, who said their train probably would be the last to go out, as the whole city then was under Villa fire, and it was feared the Villistas would capture their train before it could get out of reach.
Still in Chihuahua are known to be fifteen or more Americans, thirty or more British, German and French subjects, 500 Chinese who are helpless and a number of Spanish subjects and Arabian merchants.
All save the Chinese could have fled with Gen. Trevino's army, if the Villistas gave Trevino time to evacuate. The Chinese were huddled in the section of the city in which they lived and the refugees said none had been able to escape. They still are hiding out in the open, suffering fearful privations and in momentary dread that their hiding places will be discovered by bandits who are moving in from all directions to join the Villa forces.
In El Paso and Juarez are hundreds of Mexican families who have relatives and friends in the unhappy city and their anxiety, as they beseege the commandancy for information, was pathetic.
The reports brought to Juarez from points within twenty miles of Chihuahua today said the city was on fire in a dozen places and frightened residents who had succeeded in leaving on foot told of wholesale murder and destruction by the Villistas.
Hundreds of the Mexican residents of Chihuahua secured temporary safety by fleeing to the hills before the assault upon the city was well under way. They still are hiding out in the open, suffering fearful privations and in momentary dread that their hiding places will be discovered by bandits who are moving in from all directions to join the Villa forces.

SALAZAR, VILLA'S SECOND IS WOUNDED IN BATTLE.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
JUAREZ, (Mex.) Nov. 26.—Jose Ynez Salazar, Villa's second in command, was wounded Saturday near Chihuahua City, according to a message received from Terrazas Station by Gen. Francisco Gonzales tonight.
The news was reported by the Carranza commander at Terrazas station who said a Villa captain had been made a prisoner there after he had fled from the scene of the fighting. He said Salazar was shot in the groin while leading his men Saturday and that his wound was considered serious. This prisoner also reported the fighting still in progress when he left the vicinity of Chihuahua City, according to Gen. Gonzales' message. He said many of the Villa troops were fleeing from the city and seeking safety in Santa Clara canyon, west of Terrazas. Gen. Gonzales said he was confident that Gen. Trevino had gained another victory over the Villa forces Saturday and had driven them out of the city.
The Juarez commander also announced a resumption of communication with Molinar station and said he expected to have the telegraph line in operation to the State capital tomorrow. Gen. Gonzales announced the withdrawal of the garrisons at Namiquipa, San Buena Ventura (El Valle), Casas Grandes and Guzman, in the vicinity of the American expeditionary forces. He said there were approximately 750 troops in these garrisons, and they would be brought to Juarez over the Mexico Northwestern and sent to Chihuahua City to reinforce the troops there. He also announced Col. Ricardo Carrinas had started from Guerrero in pursuit of the Murga brothers and Rodrigo Quevedo, who were reported to be in the vicinity of Bachiniva and heading north.

OPTIMISTIC VIEW TAKEN OF RUMANIA'S PLIGHT.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)
LONDON, Nov. 27.—Although the commentary in the morning newspapers today do not attempt to disguise the fact that the position of the Rumanians has become very much worse and that they are sorely in need of succor, the weightiest writers in their opinions, refuse to be pessimistic.
These writers maintain that Rumania's position may be better than the map shows and the fact that the central passes still are being held and that the Rumanian soldiers are fighting with desperate courage, is taken to show that the morale of the army is unimpaired.
It is contended that as long as this is the case the Rumanians may yet turn the tables, as did the allies on the Marne, in 1914.
Confidence also is expressed that reinforcements from the Rumanian northern army and the Russians soon will arrive for the aid of the threatened armies to the south. The sudden rise of the Danube in consequence of the thaw also is regarded as a factor which may prove very awkward for the Germans.
Some of the comment even approaches optimism, it being contended that the Germans in their haste to conquer Rumania have weakened themselves through the necessity of drawing men from other fronts for the Rumanian campaign.
The Daily Mail accepts the details of the Rumanian retreat as true.

CHIHUAHUA CITY, Nov. 26 (By A. P. Night Wire.)—Francisco Villa's automobile, which was being used by him to direct his campaign against the Carranza troops, was struck by shell fire today and was abandoned near Fresno, southwest of the city.

TWO YEARS MORE OF WAR, WILL IRWIN'S PREDICTION.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Nov. 26.—The war will last two years more and the allies will win, declares Mr. Irwin, author and war correspondent, who arrived in New York today on the American liner Philadelphia after an extended stay with the Canadian contingent on the west front. Irwin also said he considered the French army, man for man and gun for gun, the finest fighting force in the world, and declared that he had trained the British army to pit themselves intelligently against the German troops.
Mr. Irwin said that the allies would continue the offensive along the twenty-eight miles of the Somme front all through the winter every fine day.
"There can be no question whatsoever as to who will win," Mr. Irwin said, "but the war is only about half over. The Germans are putting up a wonderful fight, but they cannot win. One of the most marked features of the west front is that Germany is totally out of the air. You never see a German aeroplane over the allied troops any more, but the air is filled with British and French fighters. They inspire fear in the German ranks. There is also the doggedness of the British. They don't give in, they don't surrender. No man moves until he has been fully equipped and fully trained. England now has 2,000,000 men still on her side of the channel being trained. They will not move forward until they are in the best fighting position. The statement has been made that Germany can put 1,600,000 men on the firing line each year, but this is not true. In that 1,600,000 are counted all men between the ages of 17 and 40, regardless of dis-

The figures include the vote of Orange County, which was obtained by taking the returns posted upon the door of the voting booth. These will be mailed to the Secretary of State, this evening.

How Cheap, but How Well, Purpose of Test.

That Fair "Victim" is Eating Bonbons.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 26.—Health Commissioner John Dill Robertson advised a reporter today that diet tests are costing very close to $1000 a day for each member of the eating squad.

The test cost, said the Health Commissioner, "will be made public at the end of the test, but I do not want to say that it is going to be 40 cents maximum per day. We have made provision for overhead expenses."

People seem to have a misconception of the purpose of this test, said the Commissioner. "It is not my intention to show that one can live on 40 cents a day. I know that thousands of people in California are living cheaper than that. Still it must be borne in mind that we are feeding adults, not children."

PURPOSE OF TEST. The purpose of the test is to show that people can live for 40 cents a day. It is not mere good living, you can see that.

My opinion that this test is of value to the middle class, those who live on salaries and wages. In these times of economic depression, it is of value to the middle class.

At present, the test is being conducted in the middle class. It is not a test for the poor, but for the middle class.

Finds Interest in Air Flight Trade.

W. A. Clarke, III (right), and Lieut. W. A. Robertson. The former is the grandson of the Montana copper magnate, while the latter is a daring young army flyer, and the former's very good friend.

HEIR TO MANY MILLIONS WOULD BE AN AVIATOR.

WILLIAM A. CLARK, III, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Clark, Jr., and grandson of former Senator W. A. Clark, the Montana copper king, who received a gift of $1,000,000 from his grandfather on the day of his birth, has an ambition. He wants to learn all there is about aviation.

During a recent visit to Coronado, he visited North Island and promptly became interested. That interest has increased since, according to his friends, and the memory of the great hangar and shop at North Island, where he was shown the intricacies of the flying game, with his good friend, Lieut. William A. Robertson, of the government service, as his mentor.

Robertson chimed in: "She (Mrs. Clark) was toy balloons. She has three myself and they are flying high. They will be in the air when she comes up here and she will be flying high."

OFFICIALS ON THE LOOKOUT.

Arms and Ammunition Smuggled into Mexico.

Extra Guards Now Stationed at Calexico.

Stage Drivers Actively Aid the Plotters.

BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.

EL CENTRO, Nov. 26.—That El Centro is the hiding place for a large shipment of arms and ammunition intended for use in Mexico, is the claim of a local resident whose name is withheld. Closely watching the cache of munitions, a government agent is said to be in El Centro, with instructions to seize them in case an effort is made to move them toward the border.

Recently extra guards from the military camp have been stationed at Calexico to aid the Department of Justice in keeping watch on the shipments of munitions. It is rumored that numerous shipments of arms have been made to valley points within the last few weeks, but no trace of their delivery across or at the border has been discovered.

It is known that many stage drivers working between El Centro and Calexico have been requested to watch for packages that are likely to contain arms and ammunition. In case of such discoveries to report them at once to the United States customs officers.

The number of inspectors in the Customs and Immigration Service along the border is too small to guard against the smuggling of the embargo and other departments of the government are being called upon to aid them.

SMELTER TO OPERATE.

Resumption of Plant in Yerington Section From Old News to Nevada District—Bluestone to Supply Ore to Plant.

RENO (Nov. 26).—The best news heard here for a year was the statement that the Thompson smelter in the Yerington district would resume operations within the next sixty or ninety days. The transaction depends on the acquisition of the Bluestone mine in the same district which is deemed necessary in order to insure a regular and adequate supply of ore to keep the plant going. The smelter closed down October 26, 1914, without any explanation of the reason for the action and no attempt has been made since then to secure resumption which has been regarded as extremely unlikely.

When the smelter resumed operations, it would be a great help to the local economy. The smelter has been closed for two years and the local economy has suffered as a result.

GERMANY'S STRATEGY.

The European War Showed Its Control of American Industries.

[Scientific American.] Ours is a wonderful country. Rich in all the natural products that man could desire. So rich that we have been prodigal in the use of materials placed at our disposal. Nevertheless, we have been industrious and we have manufactured within our own boundaries most of the products we need. For only a very small part of the goods we require has it been necessary for us to look abroad.

Our exports are greater than our imports. Before the war we were even sending to Germany a larger bill of chemicals than Germany was sending to us. It was natural for us to consider ourselves industrially independent. Certainly we were not gravely concerned by the fact that some necessary products still came from abroad.

When the war broke out, much to our astonishment, we found ourselves badly crippled for the lack of a few essential products. We realized, then, the strategic importance of Germany's coal tar industry, for by reason of the scarcity of dyes our great textile industries were paralyzed. Our very health was threatened for lack of important drugs which had always come from Germany. Even the food of the nation was affected by the sudden cessation of imports of potash.

It is not to be inferred that we are accusing Germany of having sought to destroy the industrial independence of this country by aiming at its clothing, its food and its health. The potash supply of Germany is a natural resource. We have quantities of potash in this country, but as yet have not developed an economical method of obtaining it in practical form. As for coal tar products, surely no country is in a better position than this to supply all of its own needs and have a large surplus for exportation. Our production of pig iron is twice that of Germany, and consequently our production of coke must be correspondingly as great. But instead of saving the valuable by-products of coke manufacture we have been burning them up in the destructive beehive furnace.

In the past there has been little encouragement for us to save the coal tar, and it is for this reason that we suddenly find our industries dependent upon foreign products. The very consumers of these products have been unwilling to bear the cost of protecting the infant industries against foreign competition. We ourselves are to blame for the dependent condition of our industries.

Food Inquiry Urged.

Since the tremendous rise in the price of foodstuffs, thousands of people are urging on their Congressmen a thorough inquiry into the reasons. Perhaps an investigation by a committee of Congress will be undertaken if so it may simply whitewash the dealers, as has been done so often in the past. Evidently these Congressmen cannot see. Yet they are no worse than many people in Los Angeles who have never taken proper care of their eyesight. Don't neglect this important thing any longer. Make a visit to the California Optical Company, 715 South Broadway, today, and let their experts fix you with proper glasses at a very small cost.

Wanted Free Press: "I am now prepared to answer any questions anyone care to ask," said the lecturer.

Creditors of Swanson Consolidated Decline Offer for Property. Will Continue to Work Mine Under Trusteeship Plan.

(Special Correspondence.)
PARKER (Ark.) Nov. 24.—Creditors of the Swanson Consolidated Copper Company have refused an offer of a certified check for $150,000 for the bankrupt company's property at Swanson, preferring to work the mine under a trusteeship, according to reports. Ernest C. Kane, who succeeded in securing the property under the lease lately expired, has been appointed manager under the trusteeship and will continue mining and shipping the ore from which such large profit has been obtained in the past two years.

Within a few years it is believed the full indebtedness of the company will have been paid off, when some return may be expected for the stockholders. The receipts have been wholly from ore shipments, the large smelting plant on the ground having been allowed to lie idle. There is speculation whether this furnace capacity might not be utilized to advantage, now that all the customers of the Southwest are so overdriven. It is probable, however, that a larger supply of fuel ore than is now obtainable must first be secured.

Increases Reserve.
Ray-Hercules Mill Aided by Eastern Capitalists.

(Special Correspondence.)
RAY (Ark.) Nov. 24.—The Ray-Hercules Company lately added to its cash reserve by the admission of some strong eastern capital, and has on hand about $1,200,000 from which to finance the construction of its 2800-ton mill at Kelvin, expect to cost $1,000,000. Machinery orders have been placed, though deliveries will be delayed by the inability of the manufacturers to keep up with their business. Still a date has been set on the operation of the plant, September 1 next.

New hoists are included in the machinery order, and the handling of the ore will be made as nearly automatic as is possible.

Local representatives of the company have been very secretive, but it is known that large bodies of concentrating ore, running 2 to 3 per cent. copper, have been developed by churning drilling, while native copper has been found in the main shaft.

Carbonate ore has been shipped in quantity to the El Paso smelter. The concentrator site is at a point where the ore can be delivered without the necessity for traction, very close to the Ray company's railroad.

MOTOR CAR METHOD.
(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.)
FLAGSTAFF (Ariz.) Nov. 24.—Motor car transportation on a large scale is to be tried out in handling the ore of the Nevada Copper Company, which has started work on the White Mesa mines, 120 miles north-east of this point. Several large trucks have been secured for the experiment of hauling ore here for shipment to a smelter and many more motor cars will be purchased if the trial proves successful.

It is proposed to have in operation twelve large motor trucks and six caterpillars, the latter for a twenty-mile stretch of sand. Ore of notable richness is said to be available on the surface in immense quantity for veritable quarrying.

"He Kept Us Out of War."
(New York Evening Sun.) Wilson kept us out of war!

And he has spent $100,000,000 in doing so in the Villa episode alone. He is now spending from $15,000,000 to $20,000,000 a week. He has spent on keeping us out of war with Mexico altogether to date at least $250,000,000. It is estimated that he will spend at least $100,000,000 more.

Besides the lives: Vera Cruz, Columbus, Carrizal, not to speak of Santa Ysabel and the thousand minor butcheries which cause the total bloodshed of peace with Mexico to exceed the total of the Spanish war of 1898. And then the outraged women, the ruined mines, the plundered property, the incalculable suffering of the dispossessed Americans. And the disgrace and discredit of it all in the eyes of the world.

What a price to pay in treasure, blood and honor. But he kept us out of war.

SARDINES FOR CHICKEN FOOD

Tuna Factories Working on New Product.

Schools of Sardines Furnish Unlimited Supply.

Newspaper Men Inspect the City Golf Links.

LONG BEACH, Nov. 26.—Tuna canneries have been working day and night for several days converting sardines into chicken food.

Canners, having finished their tuna season, take a grim delight in the new industry, for the surplus of sardines in the channel has been the main cause of a shortage of tuna this year.

A permit was secured from the State Fish and Game Commission for the salting of sardines with salt and spices.

The sardines are then packed in cans, and the surplus of sardines in the channel has been the main cause of a shortage of tuna this year.

The process of salting the sardines into dried hen food is a simple one.

WILL REST IN ADIRONDACKS.

Mrs. Boissevain's Body will be Sent East Tonight.

No Services to be Conducted Here, is Announcement.

Many High Tributes are Paid Dead Suffrage Leader.

The body of Mrs. Inez Milholland Boissevain, noted suffrage leader who died Saturday night at the Good Samaritan Hospital, will be shipped for New York at 6 o'clock this evening, by the Southern Pacific.

It is announced that there will be no services here. The funeral will be conducted in Dr. Parkhurst's church in New York City, of which John E. Milholland, the father of the deceased, is a deacon. The remains, now being prepared for shipment by Booth & Fitch, will be laid at rest at Mendocino Mount, in the Adirondacks, the family home of the Milhollands.

Mrs. Boissevain, suffering with anemia, collapsed on the Blanchard Hall stage on October 23, while she was advocating the election of Charles Evans Hughes.

Three days later she was taken to the hospital. Repeated sacrifices of relatives and friends, who submitted to blood transfusions, failed to more than delay the end.

Eugene Boissevain, the widower, Mr. and Mrs. Milholland, the father and mother of the deceased, and Miss Vida Milholland, her sister, all hurried here when the gravity of the sufferer's condition was realized, and were at the bedside at the hour of passing.

TRIBUTES PAID HER.

Messages of sympathy came yesterday to the family from all parts of the country, while throughout America the highest tributes were publicly paid the departed leader, who was a martyr to the cause she represented.

Miss Anna Martin of Reno, Nev., national chairman of the Women's Party, for which Mrs. Boissevain was campaigning when she collapsed, gave out a statement, saying Mrs. Boissevain died on the field of honor just as truly as the soldiers of France.

"She gave her life for the freedom of women and for the welfare of her country," said Miss Martin. "She arose from a sick bed to keep every day for her Nevada statehood in the recent tour. She died the same thing in California."

Word was also received here that news of the death of Mrs. Boissevain was received with the keenest distress in Washington, D. C. The announcement, made during a mass meeting at the Congressional Union headquarters by Mrs. Robert Baker, was met with a shocked silence and many in the audience who had known Mrs. Boissevain since her college days broke down and wept.

Mrs. Baker, who had traveled with Mrs. Boissevain through nine of the suffrage States in the recent campaign, spoke briefly and with feeling of the courage and devotion of the dead.

"She held her crowds of thousands of listeners everywhere she spoke," said Mrs. Baker. "In Seattle, where a crowd of Democrats had been sent to break up the meeting, she scored a defiant triumph and was listened to in profound silence, her audience breaking into cheers as she concluded. It took the last ounce of her strength to do it, but she would not give up. She had the heart of a soldier."

Miss Maud Younger of California, who went to Washington last week, was present at the meeting here when Mrs. Boissevain collapsed and was carried to the hospital.

"She was appealing, as she always did to the women of the West, to stand shoulder to shoulder with the women of the whole United States and end forever the long struggle for enfranchisement," said Miss Younger, at Washington yesterday.

"SHEER PLUCK."

"It was the message she carried through all the suffrage States. It was near the close of her address, just as she uttered the words: 'It will mean liberty,' she stopped suddenly, her hand upraised, and then fell to the floor. Miss Beulah Adair took charge of the meeting, but Mrs. Boissevain, who had fainted, was quickly restored and insisted upon returning to the platform. She carried through the meeting to the end, answered questions, and charmed everyone with her clear logic, personal charm and sheer pluck. It was her last meeting, her last speech."

Womanly.

PREFERS DEATH, BUT—

Girl Estranged from Family by Alleged Opposition to Her Marriage to Chauffeur, Decides to End It All—However, She Survives to Repeat Step.

Death, rather than divorce, to correct what she believed was a social error in her marriage, was preferred yesterday by Mrs. F. L. Schipp, 22 years old and attractive. But she didn't die and now she doesn't think she will get a divorce.

Family opposition to her husband, she is alleged to have said, was the cause of her woes. After she graduated from the nurse's school in the County Hospital, she married Mr. Schipp, who is a chauffeur. Her parents are prosperous Colorado persons, well connected socially, and with ambitions for their daughter. Her maiden name was Marshall.

After she announced her wedding, she said her relations with her family became strained, resulting in such a breach it was a constant worry to her. Though she loved her husband, she said, yet the constant suggestion of an unfortunate marriage spoiled her happiness. Finally she decided she would secure a divorce. But when her thoughts dwelt on such a separation, her love for her husband became paramount and she decided it would be impossible to leave him other than by dying. Then she considered the effect upon her husband of a possible breaking up of the family, and concluded he would be happier in the future if she died, even as a suicide, than if she left him.

Having settled the problem, she drank a poison early yesterday morning. But her body's effort to survive under the shock attracted the attention of others in the house at No. 1224 South Hill street, and she was sent to the Receiving Hospital. There the prompt action of the doctors saved her.

Inhuman.

INFANT IS STRANGLER.

Body of Baby Girl, Only a Few Hours Old, Is Found in a Suit Case on Vacant Lot—Initials May Give Clue to the Guilty Person.

The body of a baby girl, strangled after only a few hours of life, and then thrown upon a vacant lot near Eighth street and Grand View avenue, early last night started Police Detectives Leon and Cline upon search for the mother of the child.

A suit case which contained the body was first discovered by a small boy. The body was packed first in a paper box, marked with the name of a downtown department store and the box placed in a suitcase. No clothing had been placed about the body or in the suit case, but this, according to Police Surgeon Albert Miller, who examined the body, must have been wound about the child's neck and then pulled tight. The marks of the cord upon the infant's neck were discovered by the surgeon.

On each side of the infant's neck, in red ink, are the letters "S. B.," stamped in old English. Detectives Leon and Cline believe that the body had been carried to the spot by some one who rode in an automobile. They found auto tracks leading to a spot on Grand View avenue directly opposite where the suit case was discovered.

The body was removed from the Receiving Hospital to the Breeze morgue and an autopsy will be held today. The suit case was held by the police and efforts will be made today to locate the owner.

Hopeful.

IMPROVED CONDITION.

Member of Old California Family, Who has Been Dangerously Ill, is Reported Much Better, but Advanced Age Makes Recovery Doubtful.

Mrs. Victoria Dominguez de Carson, daughter of the late Don Manuel Dominguez, and one of the owners of the great Dominguez rancho, who recently suffered a stroke of paralysis and who has been dangerously ill for ten days, was reported as greatly improved last night. She is past 70 years of age and grave apprehension is felt as to her ultimate recovery, owing to her great age.

Mrs. Carson and her three sisters, Mrs. John F. Francis, Mrs. Dolores Watson and Mrs. Susanna Dominguez are the principal surviving heirs of the original Manuel Dominguez estate.

Patriotic.

SPANISH WAR VETERANS HONOR DEAD COMRADES.

Unfold Old Glory to the Breeze at Rosedale Yesterday Over Burial Plot Where Heroes of the Spanish-American War Sleep—Impressive Ceremonies at Flagpole Dedication.

His sightless eyes staring into heaven's blue, his thin emaciated fingers fondling the silk folds of a beautiful American flag, Sergeant "Jack" Lettimore, the blind comrade of Roosevelt Camp, No. 9, United Spanish War Veterans, by his recital of "Old Glory" thrilled the watchers at the ceremonies held at Rosedale Cemetery yesterday, when the flagpole was dedicated and the flag raised over the burial plot of the camp.

The ceremonies were participated in by the Roosevelt Camp, assisted by other patriotic orders, including the Robbery B. Evans Post of the Woman's Auxiliary, and the G.A.R. Veterans Life and Drum Corps, who rendered a number of thrilling patriotic airs.

Chairman Thomas C. Galbraith introduced Commander E. A. Lane of the Roosevelt Camp, who spoke briefly, but feelingly, on the purpose of the gathering. He reviewed the record of the veterans of our various wars and recounted their brave deeds as the brightest jewels in the diadem that crowns the achievements of the nation.

"Today," said the speaker, "we pay a fitting tribute to heroism, patriotism and service, a trinity that represents the best that human life has produced." He recalled the purpose of giving to an alien people the priceless treasure of liberty. This was had for its motive was a vision inspired by a human soul is capable of conceiving and it stamped the United States as the leader among nations in the great cause of humanity.

Capt. W. T. Helms, the orator of the day, quoted Drake's apothegm to the effect that "the flag is the emblem of liberty, equality and fraternity."

The flag-raising ceremony was in direct charge of Comrade A. C. Munson, assisted by Helen Jesmire and Viola Rockwell, daughters of members of the camp. The Veterans Life and Drum Corps played a thrilling patriotic air as the graceful folds of Old Glory were caused by the breeze and proudly floated over the graves of the voiceless tenants of the burial plot.

Innovation.

TIN DISKS TO POINT WAY TO AUTO DRIVERS.

"BULLIED" by the ordinances, and begged by the police in the past to preserve traffic order at the crossings, now motorists are to be beguiled by silver signs into solving the problem of congested traffic. Beginning today, Broadway's crossings are to be decorated with metallic disks arranged in geometrical form as guide lines for motorists to permit greater flexibility in traffic, and avoid the waste that comes from present jams.

Particularly appropriate to Broadway, the disks will be of shining metal, the size and the color of silver dollars, although their composition will be tin. The first were arranged at Fifth and Broadway yesterday, succeeding the old and costly painted lines.

The first purpose of the new arrangement is to prevent the stopping of traffic where a motorist turns to the left at the crossing. The disks follow the old painted lines, one for each foot, nailed with a spike. In the center of the crossing there is a circle of the disks. Machines making the left turn at the crossing will be ordered to keep to the inside line of traffic, then swing with one wheel within the silver circle, to the left. This will permit an uninterrupted stream of cars to proceed, without being jammed by the motorist who swings wide in making the turn.

The plan was worked out by Police Chief Butler, at the suggestion of R. D. Yerler, No. 430 South Broadway. Of more than 2000 suggestions made to Chief Butler by citizens for traffic reforms, this is the only one he has found practicable.

It represents a decided saving to the city.

REDS' ADVANCE GUARD BAGGED.

Twenty-eight I.W.W. Tramps Fail in Bold Stroke.

Commandeer a Freight Train; Twenty-five Captured.

Say Trouble-making Gang is Coming from North.

Twenty-eight huskies, shouting the gangster cries of the I.W.W., commandeered a freight train on the Southern Pacific at Mojave yesterday, and rode it as conquerors as far as Saugus, where they were met by a squad of deputy sheriffs. With leveled shotguns, the deputy sheriffs ordered the ruffians off the train and succeeded in arresting twenty-five of them. Three escaped.

They were the advance section of the lawless element driven out of Seattle and the Northwest since the recent riots there. They said the real body of the idle and destructive army would arrive within a week, more than 100 of them, scheduled to descend upon this city and try to make it the scene of troubles.

They had camped in the "jungle" by the railroad tracks at Mojave, raiding larders and hen roosts and awaiting a train. When it arrived they boarded two gondola freight cars and ordered the conductor and an extra fireman ordered them to leave the train. They chased the train crew to the cabooses, then swaggared to the engine and ordered the engineer to "drive us in" to that rotten joint, Los Angeles, and don't lose any time in stops, either. They threatened what they would do when they got to this city, bragging they would make "them bums that run that joint open their eyes."

The commandeering was done so openly and flagrantly a switchman saw it and informed the Southern Pacific agent, who notified the Sheriff's office here. Sheriff Cline detailed Deputy Sheriffs Bright, Bryant, Fox, Nolan, Allen and Harrington to go to Saugus and there arrest the gangsters.

At Saugus three of the officers went to one side of the track and three to the other. When the train approached they gave the signal, and the engineer stopped.

Three gangsters attempted climbing over the car tops to descend on the engineer, when they were ordered to surrender. Each deputy was armed with a sawed-off shotgun, loaded with buckshot.

Three of the gang escaped by dodging between cars. The rest surrounded, and as they dropped to the ground, joined in singing, "You killed our brother, Joe Hillstrom." They referred to the murderer who was executed in Utah.

They impudently refused to give their names, ages or home addresses. Under guard they were taken to the Newhall Jail, here last night, following their kick down the doors of the Newhall "Bastille."

Senator Cole is the oldest living member of Wesleyan, being a graduate of the class of 1847.

STRANGE MIXUP IN COLLISION.

Steam Roller, Oil Tank and Street Car Cannot Occupy Same Space at Once.

A steam roller, an oil truck and a Pacific Electric street car early last night all claimed the right of way on the street car tracks at Sunset boulevard and Eliza street, with the result that George Harding of No. 741 Temple street, who was driving the steam roller, which in turn was towing the oil tank, was slightly injured, the oil tank was wrecked and the steam roller damaged. The street car escaped with only a smashed fender.

Four hundred gallons of thick oil was thrown for half a block over the streets by the force of the collision, and the wheels were knocked from the oil truck. Several passengers in the street car were thrown from their seats, but none was injured.

Mr. Harding, who was treated at the Receiving Hospital for lacerations and bruises, says he was driving the roller across the car tracks from the left to the right side of the street, and that he thought that the motorman on the street car was about to bring the car to a stop at the crossing.

BROADWAY at SIXTH.

Another scheme to help expedite traffic on our crowded street.

Automobiles going straight through with the traffic are expected to keep the curb, as is shown in the drawing, while those turning at the corner are expected to turn on the axis of the crossing watchman, along a path blazed out for them by metal disks in the asphalt. Under this new traffic arrangement, which will be given a try-out today at Fifth and Broadway, there will be two lanes for automobile traffic; one for the cars going straight ahead, and the other for those turning the corner to the left.

Then Police Chase and Stop
Two on Suspicion.

But Robber Trio Escape at End of Bold Raid.

Terror emboldened a red-hem Saturday night about the experience of several automobile parties. First, they were stopped by bandits and their valuables taken, and then they were stopped by the police at the muzzles of many guns, because they were suspected of being the bandits.

The successful sortie of the motor car bandits began in the late evening when they stopped Archie Rainey, No. 254 South Hampden boulevard, when he was a few doors from his home, driving a small automobile. The bandits were in a powerful machine. They drove across Mr. Rainey's path, made him elevate his hands, and took all his money, some $5, from him.

Then they sped away and Mr. Rainey notified the police. A motor car squad was sent in search of the bandits.

Next came word to Central Station that the same bandits had stopped and robbed Arle Harr, No. 2775 Cove avenue, at Alessandro and Fargo streets, and had taken $15 and a gold watch. The police squad was notified by telephone to visit the scene of the second robbery.

POLICE GET ACTION.
As the police scoured the countryside they came upon a machine being so lustily driven that it ripped the roadway in its haste. The police started in pursuit, overtook the machine and, seeing in front, blocked its way. Then the police poked their guns around the shielding top of their own car and shouted, "Hold up your hands!"

The passengers in the machine were H. T. Foy, No. 138 South Spring street, and Miss George, No. 2147 Irving street. They were stopped at Evanhoe and Alessandro streets. They were ordered to get out of their car.

The police were impatient, thinking they had the bandits. Mr. Foy got out. Miss Moran was simply too scared to move.

"Have a heart!" Mr. Foy pleaded. "You just held us up and took all our money. What do you want now?"

It was true. At the same spot the motor bandits had stopped him and had taken his money, as well as Miss Moran's. Then they had ordered him to drive straight ahead and he had done so, as the machine would permit, intent on calling the ride at an end.

With the third report of banditry in their hands, the police continued to hunt along the hill roads near Silver Lake Park for some clue to the whereabouts of the bandits.

A machine passed them, kicking dust as though scrambling for footing, like an earnest rabbit trying to elude the hunter. The police machine went in pursuit. There were the bandits, certainly. They were a party of three, armed with shotguns and a thick of revolvers.

Again the order to stop, but the machine continued. It was again overtaken. The order to stop was obeyed, emphatically. The three sawed-off shotguns and a thick of revolvers.

It was on a hill. The Japanese chauffeur was told to put up his hands. He did so. As he did, the machine started backing down the hill. The chauffeur grabbed for the brakes.

"Throw up your hands!" was the stern command. The chauffeur again lifted his hands, and again the machine started backing down the hill. The Japanese was too frightened to use the foot brake.

In the back seat was Arthur H. Frank, No. 1517 Sunset boulevard. His machine, too, had been stopped by the bandits. He had had a gun under a bush before the search for money could profit the robbers.

The bandit machine was described in the same way by each of the victims, and each time three men were involved.

NO RUSH OF ENTITIES.
Many Do Not Care to Take a Chance in Los Angeles Reserve.

Indications at the local Land Office show there is to be no great rush of entrants to take advantage of the offer recently made by the Department of the Interior, opening for entry and settlement several large tracts of land eliminated from the Angeles National Reserve.

The land was open to settlement the 2nd inst., and to entry from that date up to and including last Wednesday, all entries to be deemed as having been made simultaneously. The records show that not more than a dozen entries have been made in the large area, with the number about equally divided between the land lying northeast of Whitewater, and that between the mountains and Hesperia.

That portion of the land which has been taken up is the only section suitable for agricultural purposes, and the entries made have been by those already owning locations and who desired more territory to straighten their corners. The greater part of the land is without water or means of getting it.

DURAND IN SPAIN.
Well-known Character Now Prosperous.

One film show exhibition, "Joe" Durand, who was known as king of the tenderloin district during the Harper administration, and who, with his wife, known as Maria Royer, was deported by the local immigration authorities, about two years ago, has been heard from again.

Durand is now in Barcelona, Spain, where he is conducting a motion picture show of the Willard-Johnson prize fight at Havana. Previously he was in Madrid, where he was joined by his wife. Durand was reported as having landed in Cuba some time ago, and was supposed to be on his way back to Los Angeles, but securing the fight film he returned to Spain, where he is reported as prosperous.

IS PUBLIC UTILITY.
State Railroad Commission Makes
Ruling on Status of Investment Company in Serving Water to New Station Acres and Price Rates.

The State Railroad Commission last week issued an order, denying the Conservancy Investment Company authority to discontinue service of water to residents of Neff Station Acres, and also establishing water rates to be charged to the inhabitants of the station acres and vicinity, at $1 minimum a month for the first 400 cubic feet, 15 cents a hundred cubic feet in excess up to 2000 cubic feet, and 8 cents a hundred cubic feet over that amount.

The Conservancy Investment Company asked the commission for permission to discontinue the water to Neff Station Acres, and if this was refused, for permission to raise its rates to allow a fair return upon its investment. It also desired a determination as to whether it be a public utility.

The commission's order today declares that the company is a public utility.

IS THIS WIDOW LEGAL WIFE?

Who's Who in Everett-Cowie
Case to be Decided.

Strange Dual-identity Muddle to be Given Airing.

Second Spouse Would Collect on Insurance Policy.

Whether Mrs. Francis J. Everett, who was married to Francis J. Everett over twenty years ago and lived with him in Redlands for that length of time, was really his wife, will be decided in the Superior Court of San Bernardino county, December 5, when the case of Mrs. Everett against an insurance company comes up for trial. Interest in Redlands is keen in the case, which is one of the strangest in the history of courts of San Bernardino county.

It was not until the death of Everett, who died several months ago, following injuries received in an automobile accident, that Mrs. Everett learned the man she married at San Bernardino, twenty years before, had been an attorney in the East, his real name being Francis J. Cowie, and that when he suddenly left there, he had a wife from whom, it is alleged, he was not divorced.

Neither did she know this when she found an accident insurance policy among his papers for 1746. When she attempted to collect, the insurance company refused to pay. Suit was brought and, in answer to the company's disclosure of Everett's past life before his marriage to Mrs. Everett and alleges she was not his wife, therefore not entitled to the benefits of the policy.

Mrs. Everett says Everett intended her to receive the money from the insurance, that she never knew that he was anything but what he seemed to be for over twenty years, and by reason of her marriage is entitled to the money. The court will pass upon the status of both marriages.

Water Shortage.
Beverly Hills Corporation Seeks to Compel Utilities Company to Furnish It Water—Latter
Claims It Has Only
Enough for Own Use.

Before State Railroad Commission, at 10 o'clock this morning, will be heard the complaint of the Beverly Hills Corporation against the Beverly Hills Utilities Company. The Beverly Hills Corporation asks the commission to require the utilities company to furnish water to it at the intersection of Cove way and the southwesterly extension of the Pacific, Atlantic and Gulf coast; and the abolishing of any existing navy yard or naval station.

In arriving at a conclusion the commission is instructed to take into consideration all strategic and other military considerations as well as all industrial elements necessary for the economical and successful operation of such yard or station, including local conditions as to labor and material. The report shall also contain an estimated cost of maintenance, including local conditions as to labor and material. The report shall also contain an estimated cost of maintenance, including local conditions as to labor and material.

The Beverly Hills Corporation says that it is a wealthy man, who died the other day, said that his one rule for financial success was to save 25 per cent of his wages. Some economists have been content to suggest that individual budget should be so adjusted that one-tenth to one-fifth of the annual income is set aside for future emergencies. Whatever the ratio of saving may be—$1 in $4, $1 in $10, or some ratio between these figures—it is to have some fraction specifically determined on as the saving ratio—then stick to it through thick and thin.

EXPECT BIG TRAFFIC.
Passenger Traffic Manager of Santa Fe Is Optimistic.

"Tourist travel to California this season promises to be much heavier than any year previous," says a telegram received yesterday by Assistant Passenger Traffic Manager Byrne of the Santa Fe from W. J. Black, the road's passenger traffic manager.

"Reservations on the De Luxe," the telegram continued, show an increase of 200 per cent in drawings, and 100 per cent in company reservations over last season. About 50 per cent entire capacity of De Luxe trains, January to March, inclusive, has been reserved or sold at this date.

"Business on California Limited, to date, during November, shows an increase of 20 per cent, over last season. It seems probable we will run limited in two sections daily during December and on some dates it is now apparent three sections will be necessary."

"Tourist car traffic during November to date, shows an increase of 15 per cent, over last season."

WOULD SHIFT BURDEN.
Covina Telephone Company Makes Appeal to Railroad Commission.

The Home Telephone Company of Covina, which operates a local independent telephone system in Azusa, Glendora, Baldwin Park, Charter Oak, Irwindale, San Dimas, Bassett, North Whittier Heights, Otterbein, Puente, Rowland and territory adjacent, last week filed an application with the State Railroad Commission, asking for relief from burdens imposed upon it by contracts with toll companies.

The company has contracts, according to its application, with the United States Long Distance Telephone and Telegraph Company, and with the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company, which, it says, impose upon it heavy loss. The company wants the commission to investigate these contracts, and to compel these long-distance companies to do all of the work connected with the transmission of toll messages between the switch boards of the Covina company and those of the other companies, including accounting, billing and collecting for toll messages.

enormous advantage, and that by controlling the unfortified island an enemy would be able to use it as such. On the other hand, if the United States should establish strong fortifications and use the island as an additional unit for military and naval defense, Southern California, and more particularly Los Angeles, would be practically impregnable as regards attack from the ocean.

With an important submarine used in fortification works, and a destroyer station located in the Los Angeles outer harbor, with the ultimate prospect of a large navy repair dock and station in the West Basin of the inner harbor, the strategic location of Catalina, it is considered, would be of prime importance.

INTEREST IN QUARRY.
After leaving the island, the destroyer skirted the island as far as the party quays. Mayor Woodman was called upon to answer a volley of questions as to the possibilities of securing sufficient rock for riprap purposes and to be used in fortification works, in the event it is decided to carry into execution the plan of fortification.

Mayor Woodman stated to the committee yesterday that, while Los Angeles is most anxious to secure the island, the people of this city would do all in their power to promote the enterprise at that place. The attitude of the Mayor appeared to please the committee.

Today the members of the committee will hold an executive session and assemble the mass of information they have gathered. There will probably be individual inspections of various sites offered by the coast and a formal farewell call on the Mayor.

SCHEDULE UNCERTAIN.
If work is completed in time, the party will start for San Diego this evening, probably about 7:30. Paul Jones, which has been assigned for duty with the committee. It may be, however, tomorrow noon before the party leaves.

"We are going to take all the time necessary," said Rear-Admiral Helm, chairman. "When we leave here we will have thoroughly familiarized ourselves with the details we should know in order to make a comprehensive report."

The committee was appointed in August by President Wilson and $10,000 appropriated for its expenses. It is instructed to report as soon after the opening of the coming session of Congress as possible, the committee's report on the advisability of establishing an additional navy yard or naval station on the Pacific Coast; submarine and aviation bases on the Pacific, Atlantic and Gulf coasts; and the abolishing of any existing navy yard or naval station.

In arriving at a conclusion the committee is instructed to take into consideration all strategic and other military considerations as well as all industrial elements necessary for the economical and successful operation of such yard or station, including local conditions as to labor and material. The report shall also contain an estimated cost of maintenance, including local conditions as to labor and material. Dance Hall Employee Is Arrested for Crime Against Girl.

Charged with a statutory offense, Frederico William Nebelthaus, an employee of the Dome Dance Hall in Venice, was arrested early last night by the police. He was taken to the station and held in the juvenile department and J. P. Smith of the District Attorney's office.

According to the two officers, the prisoner remained over night in a Venice hotel with Marie Wycoff, 14 years of age, of No. 712 East Fifty-second street, this city. The girl was later found by a patrolman wandering about the downtown district here and when questioned, told of staying at the hotel with Nebelthaus.

The disks will lay out a zone at crossings the same width as the sidewalk, and at the street approach to this zone will be spelled the word "stop," a warning to motorists not to touch upon the pedestrian's reserves as is done at present.

A safety zone for pedestrians at street car stops will be indicated; the stopping place for the trolley will be marked with the word "trolley," and the fire plug will also be marked.

Progress of the Southwest's Great Mining Revival--Latest Developments Chronicle Financial

GIVE GLAD HAND TO VISITORS.

Oatman Entertains Big Party of Mining Men.

Tom Reed to Enlarge its Mill Capacity.

Steady Progress is Recorded Over Wide Area.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.] OATMAN (Ariz.) Nov. 26.—Some fifty capitalists and business men interested in the Midway Mining and Milling Company, a Los Angeles concern, operating in this field, were here yesterday. After a general inspection trip over the district and including a particular study of the Midway property, the party was entertained by the Oatman Club members, and entertained by the newly-formed Oatman Bureau of Mines.

The visitors expressed their interest in the progress of the development here in the semi-official announcement that the Tom Reed Gold Mines Company is planning to add a 100-ton unit to its present mill capacity. An official of the company, who was here this week, stated: "The Tom Reed needs greater mill capacity and it is quite possible that we shall increase the capacity of the old plant temporarily and bring the ore from the Astor shaft by an aerial tramway. The construction of a new mill may follow later."

It is also understood that a new compressor with the capacity of 1750 cubic feet and a new 15-horse-power motor are included in the new equipment which will be provided to carry on more intensive work. The Tom Reed will sink the shaft on the 1400 level, as they are securing good ore on the workings of the 1400 ft. level, and the ore bodies of the district go to great depth.

Active work is being carried on at the Lucky Boy property. The machinery has been fully overhauled and everything is in shape for extensive work. The main construction shaft, which has been sunk to a depth of 150 feet, will be driven to the 400-foot level, at which point cross-cutting will be started.

IMPORTANT REPORT. J. K. Turner, consulting engineer of the Oatman United and the Star Pointers, has completed a report on the Star Pointer property in the Black Range section. This report will shortly be made public and it is expected that it will contain some valuable data on the Black Range field. There is a great deal of activity in this section. The Black Range, Gold Monster, Oatman Crescent, Adams and Nellie are working steadily.

Under the direction of Dan Murphy, driving of the Gold Monster tunnel is going ahead at rapid pace. Two shifts are at work, and according to the indications, further development should prove the enrichment of the property.

The Oatman Crescent has been cutting stringers carrying fair values, and according to Manager Elmer, the mine will be worked to a depth of 500 feet with additional work. A careful computation showed that the dip in the vein was considerably greater than at first believed.

FINISH SHAFT. The Adams Company have finished their shaft to a depth of 400 feet, sunk the pump twenty-five feet deep, put in a water drift twelve feet below the 400-foot level, and which, with the pump, is capable of holding several hours' flow.

The management has just purchased additional machinery, including a generator, dynamo and pump. All this machinery has been shipped and foundations are now being set for it. This new machinery, in addition to present equipment, will enable the mine to handle any amount of water that may reasonably be expected, and the development work may go right along. The station will be completed by Tuesday and the cross-cut started to the vein.

THREE PLANTS NOW.

Purchases of American Magnette Company Are Started Up. Output Is Contracted for Year Ahead. Other Factories Keeping Up Rapid Pace.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.] PORTERVILLE, Nov. 21.—With 1000 tons of crude ore in the bins, and with contracts that will keep the plant busy for a year at least, the calcining equipment of the American Magnette Company started work this week.

The company is controlled by T. J. Curran of San Diego and Dr. Schmitt of Pasadena. The construction of the plant having been in personal charge of the former. According to Mr. Curran, the plant represents an investment of about $250,000.

Completion of this equipment means three manufacturing plants in this district now turning out calcined magnesite for the general eastern market. The American plant will have a capacity of sixty-five tons per day. The United Magnesite Company has been producing about fifty tons per day for the past four months, and the output of the Porterville Magnesite Company is about ten tons daily. None of the plants is in a position to book any further orders, their entire output having been contracted for months in advance.

According to a tabulation, which was completed last week at the Chamber of Commerce rooms there are now more than 100 men engaged in the magnesite industry in the Porterville district.

Santa Rosa Mine to Enlarge Transshipment Plant.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.] KEELER (Cal.) Nov. 24.—Development at the Santa Rosa mine are proceeding vigorously. The output is increasing so rapidly, however, that the management is preparing to increase its transportation equipment in the immediate future. In addition to the extensive company operations, considerable work is being carried forward by lessees. The Santa Rosa is controlled by the West End Coal and Lignite Company.

The splendid bodies of zinc and lead-silver ore recently opened in the workings of the Cerro Gordo mine, it is demonstrated, are of great size and vein appears to be widening with depth, and the deposit is proving far more extensive than originally anticipated. Heavy shipments of high-grade zinc, silver, and lead ore are being made, and from the old slag piles much profitable material is being sent out.

Comprehensive operations will be about to start at the Oro Belle gold mine near Hart, early in December. The mine is now under the control of the powerful John Hayes Hammond, who is expected to make the mine available for thorough operations. Particular attention will be paid to the Woodward vein, which is expected to yield a heavy tonnage of low-grade, but profitable, ore. A meeting has been called for December 8, at which time the company will be dissolved, and stock exchanged for that in the new corporation on the basis of two for one.

SAN DIEGO DUE FOR COPPER BOOM.

ENCINITAS MINE RESUMPTION HOUSES INTEREST.

Operators Believe Large Area in the County to be Mineralized.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.] SAN DIEGO, Nov. 26.—The reopening on a large scale of the old Encinitas copper mine in the northern part of this county, has created quite a flurry in the mining world about here. Victims of a mining camp with all modern conveniences, but an hour's run by auto to the city of San Diego, are pictured by the residents of the vicinity as they witness the activity about the mine. For seventy years the mine has been worked off and on by various owners, but was shut down the last time eleven years ago when the bottom dropped out of copper.

HALF MILLION MONTH INCOME.

Extension's Shipping Eight Carloads a Day.

Operators Hit Ore Body on Shea Property.

Daisy Adds Nine Claims to its Holdings.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.] JEROME (Ariz.) Nov. 24.—The United Verde Extension is shipping an average of seven or eight carloads a day of ore that runs about 20 per cent. copper, giving a net monthly income approximately $400,000. In one week, when cars were available, seventy carloads were sent out, but transportation facilities are a bit limited.

Plans are being made for the company's new smelter in the Verde Valley, below Clarkdale, where construction is expected to begin soon. It is said that a working connection has been made between the Extension and the Dundee, involving a joint tunnel on a deep level and the handling of the Dundee's oxide-carbonate surface ore as flux in the new smelter. These surface ore are rich, running the length of two claims about forty feet wide and sampling about 6 per cent. copper.

Jerome Daisy has added nine claims and now has twenty-one, covering 6000 feet of the North Verde fault. J. E. Hubbard, one of the promoters of the Dundee, has become interested in this property and has been made a director of the company.

The Dundee has been producing 125 tons to the ton has been cut in a tunnel on the Shea property, south of the Copper Chief. The values are mainly gold, with only a slight showing of copper.

The Jerome-Superior has received a churn drill from Los Angeles and will prospect several claims in the hope of striking a sulphide body at depth.

S. J. Balentine and associates of Jerome have secured a lease on the Copper Chief property. The company is an old one, organized in 1907.

COAL FIELD ATTRACTS.

First Comprehensive Exploitation of Fuel Belt in Amador County is Forecast—Canadians to Reopen the St. Junius Mine.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.] IONE (Cal.) Nov. 24.—As a result of several months' extensive explorations with drills and shafts, practically the entire valley between Carbonate and Ione has been found to contain a lignite strata, and the outlook is thought promising for the development of an important coal industry in this field. Strongly financed operators have become interested.

In connection with this plan for the first comprehensive development of the coal deposits of the Carbonate and Ione valleys, the plan of the Lignite Fuel Company at Ione has been purchased by the Canadian Pacific Railway.

IF RAY-HERCULES CAN GO TO $50.00.

THE OBVIOUS THING FOR YOU TO DO IS BUY ARIZONA RAY AT 28c.

Charles A. Stoneham & Company, the leading authority of the States on copper stocks, in their Market Letter of November 17th, 1916, state that the Ray-Hercules is a copper stock of the highest quality.

"The strengthening market in Ray-Hercules is based upon the estimate that between 11,000,000 and 12,000,000 tons of ore, averaging 23 per cent. copper, have been blocked out in the main ore-body. It also stated that the Company is shipping sulphide ore from the development of its main shaft, on which it is realizing between $100,000 and $300,000 monthly. Advances from the property state that preparation for the announcement of production on a large scale are going forward.

"The development of 12,000,000 tons of 23 per cent. ore, indicating allowing for the recoveries and cost estimation originally made, that the Ray-Hercules has been brought into sight a net asset value in a 25c copper stock something like $50 a share as a book value for the stock. The Ray-Hercules during the past week has been of excellent character, and it is probable that a 100 per cent. advance in the market price of the issue is not probable at an early date."

Grasp the Significance of These Facts. If Ray-Hercules can go to $50 per share, the promise of a large profit for Arizona Ray certainly seems great. NOT MERE PUPPETS.

REAL "HUMANS" ENLIVEN "END OF THE RAINBOW."

By Grace Kingsley.

A photoplay full of real human beings, not puppets, is the picture, "The End of the Rainbow." Universal feature starring Myrtle Gonzalez, at the Garrick this week. There is the father who cannot understand why his daughter prefers business to society. There is the girl who thinks she wants business, but really longs for life. There is the young lawyer up in the lumber camp, and the trees, and finally making good in the big game of life. And there are human drama and comedy—human because the comedy is near to tears, and because the serious drama is lighted by moments of humor which are always the natural by-product, so to speak, of seriousness.

It is all played very naturally and convincingly by Miss Gonzalez, Mr. Hernandez, Val Paul and the others. Even the villain is a human sort of villain. There is some beautiful photography among the redwoods.

The Universal travesty accompaniment, showing views of Ceylon, is unusually interesting.

Palace.

William S. Hart, wearing the spectacular embroidered vest he purchased from a famous gambler, several years ago, appearing in a picture play at the Palace this week, which, despite some glaring defects, is the most thrilling we have seen him in for some time. The same of the picture is "The Devil's Double." Its theme is rather novel, being the story of an artist who makes bad man Hart pose for him in the character of Lucifer. The scene is laid away up in the mountains where the artist, who is a consumptive, goes for his health. The bad man falls in love with the artist's wife in a recent sort of way. This results in a very queer sort of a picture, which has defects, lying principally in the staging of some illogical scenes solely for the sake of spectacular effect. For instance, the two men fight in a burning cabin, when the quite natural thing to do would have been to drag the unconscious wife out-of-doors, and have the conflict in the open. Another thing, rattlesnakes do not follow people up to bite them; they get away if they can. Instead of this we have a rattlesnake treading on Enid Markay's heels, over several yards of ground, in order to give Hart a chance to shoot the reptile's head off.

But the story is interesting and well worked out, and Hart appears at his best. Enid Markay, too, who may always be depended on, does some exceedingly good acting.

Woodley.

Really, if they're going to shock us in the movies—and there are so many excellent chances—they'll have to find something more novel than the showman's device of assigning a couple supposedly married, but in reality single, to the same bedroom. This is the principal situation in "Miss George Washington," which Marguerite Clark's vehicle at the Woodley this week.

Miss Clark is one of the best little Billie Burkes of the film, and is so entirely charming that she is delightful even in this hackneyed situation.

The theme of the picture is ingeniously and amusingly worked out, which is to be credited. Having won the medal of the Truth Society for veraciousness, the little heroine immediately embarks on a career of lying. No matter what trouble she gets into, you know she will come out all right in the last reel. There is a dreadful mix-up with an artist, but the hero arrives just in time to save the little lady from the awful fate of being killed by the villain.

The picture play is noteworthy in introducing a new face to the screen. The girl's name is not mentioned, but she plays the role of May, the boarding school girl in love with the artist. She has one of the most mobile and beautiful faces on the screen, and possesses a personality which gets over so vividly, one is sometimes tempted to forget the star when this young woman appears in the same scene with her.

Majestic.

The third week of Benjamin Brodsky's famous "Trip Through China" travelogue at the Majestic, opened yesterday. The picture shows not only fascinating views of city life, with intimate glimpses of the people, their customs and manners, but the only motion views ever made of the Forbidden City in Peking. To obtain these, Mr. Brodsky obtained permission from President Yuan Shi Kai himself.

Condor fishing, primitive methods of labor, man-power, boating, and other views peculiar to China are among the feature pictures, while

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MERCHANT FOUND GUILTY.

Globofent Shown to Have Transported Woman into Another State, Despite Testimony of Wife. Post Prisoner Released from Restricted District Followed Him.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.)

TUCSON (Ariz.) Nov. 26.—Mike Globofent, a Los Angeles produce merchant, has been found guilty on all of eight counts against him connected with the transportation from California into Arizona, for immoral purposes, of Mrs. Ida Cook, aged 22. The testimony showed that the defendant and his wife had an immoral relationship, existing in Los Angeles, where Globofent had gone to sell walnuts.

The high-light feature of the trial in the United States court was the testimony of Globofent's wife that the Cook woman had followed her defendant around and that she had pleaded with her in Los Angeles and Kingman to let her husband alone. Recorder Cowan testified that Mrs. Cook had been an inmate of the Tucson restricted district last April. It was also said that efforts had been made to get her to rejoin her own husband in Kingman.

Globofent in his own behalf testified that he had met Mrs. Cook and her aunt, Mrs. Cole, while he was driving out in the evening in Los Angeles last winter. The two women stopped him, under the impression the machine was a jitney. On a later drive, on closer acquaintance, Globofent testified that he saw and it seemed to please her, so I sang another. When I had finished she threw her arms around me and kissed me. This narration was heard by his wife and two children.

It is said Globofent was arrested at the summit in Salt Lake on a bigamy charge.

WOMAN TO PRISON.

In the Federal Court, Mrs. Louis Basco was sentenced to a year in the Canon City penitentiary for perjury. She was a witness against Basco in a Federal case till she married him, when she retracted her previous testimony. Basco joined in the escape last summer of a number of convicted prisoners from the Phoenix jail and has not been recaptured. Five other women also have been given terms in the penitentiary, generally for violations of the immigration laws.

Among ten men sent to McNeill's island for a year is "Colonel" Jack Brown, a soldier of fortune of some notoriety, convicted of violation of the statute governing the sale of opiates.

Says Ultimate Peace Plan Must Be Based on International Legislative Power, with Army and Navy to Enforce Decrees—Meanwhile Maintain Our Rights.

Dr. Lincoln Wirt, F.R.G.S., of Boston, spoke at the First Congregational Church last night on "Which Will Survive, War or Christianity." Dr. Wirt has recently returned from Europe, where he visited the various battle fronts, and his thrilling account of his experiences are creating the greatest interest in all the cities of the country where he has appeared on lecture platforms. Dr. Wirt was to have sailed for Europe on the ill-fated Lusitania, but was providentially prevented from it, as it seemed to him, and went to the hospital through the wreckage of British warships torpedoed in the Mediterranean, and reached Italy in safety. In his address last night Dr. Wirt painted vivid word pictures of the struggle and suffering and the awful poverty which will deprive the peoples of Europe for the next 100 years.
